FEED THE HUNGRY IN LANCASTER

In the Community Ministry Team (INC) is planning an August 7, 2012 Feed the Hungry Project in Lancaster. LCOB is trying to raise $400 in order to buy food, which members from our church will use to prepare a meal and serve those hungry in Lancaster. We will also need 200 servings of dessert donations for that night. Desserts can be delivered to the church kitchen no later than 7:00 p.m. Monday, August 6. There will be a sign up sheet in the Gathering Area for you to list your name and how many servings your dessert donation will provide. If you want to come along to serve or have any questions, please call Deb Chillas at 299-6843. Your check donation should be made payable to Lancaster Church of the Brethren and in the memo or on your offering envelope write: INC-August 7 Hunger Project.

HELP THE HOMELESS STUDENTS IN LANCASTER

Approximately 1200 students in the School District of Lancaster will be homeless at some time during the coming school year. This is 200 more than the estimates for previous years. For the fourth straight year, the people of the Lancaster Church of the Brethren, through the "Be an Angel" project, are reaching out to provide help for these students. Our primary goal is to provide 500 uniforms, 100 more than last year.

From now through August 19 we are collecting school supplies and underwear and socks at two collection points- the Gathering Place and the Heritage Center (near the Family Life Center.) A list of specific needs can be found on the large angels at the collection points.

There is a change this year in how we purchase the school uniforms. Last year we shopped locally. This year we have found a supplier who will sell us uniforms in volume for less than 40% of last year's cost. So we will need money donations to buy the uniforms this year. Make checks out to the Lancaster Church of the Brethren and designate "Be an Angel". Place any cash donations in an envelope designated "Be an Angel".

Some folks like to go out and actually purchase uniforms on their own. If you prefer this option, uniforms can be purchased at K-mart at a discount of 20%, usually available after July 1.

The School District of Lancaster is deeply appreciative of the help we are giving these homeless students.

FROM THE CHILDREN'S MINISTRY DESK

"People were bringing even infants to him that he might touch them; and when the disciples saw it, they sternly ordered them not to do it. ¹⁶But Jesus called for them and said, 'Let the little children come to me, and do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs. ¹⁷Truly I tell you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God as a little child will never enter it.'"

-Luke 18:15-17

Jamie Nace
Director of Children's Ministry
Let's take a look at some of these lessons:

We need to pay closer attention to children. This verse doesn't say that the kingdom of God belongs to those who come as scholars, teachers or elders. It says the kingdom of God belongs to those who come as little children. What does that look like? Does it mean we are to run around giggling with sticky fingers? Maybe! ☺ But I think it goes much deeper than that. Children have much to offer us in terms of perspective on life and the things that are most important.

Be passionate – Did you ever listen to children who were super excited about something? They don't hold back! Everything comes pouring out in a flood of passionate expression! How amazing would it be if we exuded that same passion every time we spoke of God? Don't hold back! Be passionate followers of Christ!

Be joyful – Children find joy in the smallest things: a butterfly fluttering through the air; an imaginary tea party; a ball; even a freshly-opened box of crayons can evoke giddy feelings of joy. When we take the time to really notice the smaller, seemingly insignificant things, we see that God's creation is that much more miraculous and beautiful.

Be kind to everyone – Hate and intolerance are learned. Children do not enter the world judging and hating others. If we receive the kingdom of God as a child, we can't have hate and intolerance in our hearts. That doesn't mean we ignore the fact that those things exist. It simply means we are called to treat everyone with kindness.

Love extravagantly – Children love so deeply and authentically and they do so without reservation. Imagine what the world would look like if everyone loved in such a pure and genuine way.

As adults, we have learned much about how the world works. Hopefully, we are a bit wiser for having lived all the years we've lived. But, let us not take lightly God's call to come to Him as little children. To go back to a time where life was simpler; to a time where we didn't know what it was like to hate; to a time when running around giggling with sticky fingers was closer to God than any scholar, teacher or elder could get.

Join Us This Fall For An Exciting JOURNEY THROUGH THE OLD TESTAMENT (Sept. 2012 – April 2013)

In last month's Brethren Highlights we announced a 26-week New Testament course for 2012-13. Upon further thought, reinforced by feedback from members of the congregation, we have decided to change plans. We shall instead offer a 26-week Old Testament course in 2012-13. We hope to offer the New Testament course as a follow-up in 2013-14.

Written over a period of centuries by various authors with different writing styles and agendas, the Old Testament is a living library of some thirty-nine "books" that offers insight into the nature of God and wisdom for young and old. Although many of us are familiar with some of its stories, most people believe the Old Testament is difficult to read and even harder to understand.

Journey Through the Old Testament is an intensive course that will bring the Old Testament to life by reading the texts seriously and examining the historical, cultural, and theological context in which they were written. It will meet 7:00-9:00 p.m. Monday evenings, Sept. 10 – Dec. 3, 2012 and Jan. 7 – Apr. 1, 2013. It is the first year of the 2-year Journey Through the Bible course that was offered very successfully in 2006-08 and 2009-11. Members of those classes praised the course enthusiastically, saying that it greatly strengthened their understanding of the Christian faith. The teaching team will consist of Gene Bucher, Allen Hansell, Jeff Rill, and Cindy Latimer.

A brochure announcing full details of this course has been prepared and may have already appeared in your church mailbox. Questions may be addressed to Chuck Denlinger (872-4476, mailbox #67, or cgdenlinger@comcast.net).

SAFE CHURCH

Just the mention of the name "Sandusky" alerts our minds to many thoughts and images. It brings to us the idea of victims, abuse, vulnerable children, abuse of authority, scandal, and responsibility to report. No one wants to think this sort of thing can happen to anyone and we don't want to believe that it can happen in a church. Statistics and even our own local news prove otherwise.

So what is a church to do to address the issue of sexual abuse and sexual offenders? It is not just about the possibility of it happening to our children in our church but also about those in our congregation who have been victimized in this way apart from the church. How does a congregation address a perpetrator? These are not just simple legal issues to write policy about. It takes deeper understanding and a commitment to create both a safe and healing environment.

A group of volunteers appointed by our church board has begun the process, joining with representatives from eleven other congregations of Lancaster County in an 11-month training offered by the Samaritan Counseling Center. This program is made possible through a grant from the Ms. Foundation. Our Safe Church core team will engage our congregation in not only writing policies of protection, but also in becoming more educated to be proactive about sexual crime and abuse.

The course will be complete in May of 2013 and includes a healing retreat for victims in April of next year. Over this time, we will begin proposing new policies, procedures and standards of care. These are not just issues for those who are working directly with our children and youth ministries. Some of the objectives to become a safe church may change or adjust some of our current practices. Abuse, whether sexual, physical, or mental will be addressed. For those in our congregation who are victims, we hope this education and acknowledgment will offer healing and help.

These sessions of policy development and training have a core team attending but as the group moves through the process, we will begin to engage the entire congregation. In September, we will hold a one-hour forum titled Safe Church 101. Anyone who volunteers (inside or outside the church) with children and youth, and those whose vocation involves working with children and youth, can benefit from this session. - Awareness is the first step to change.

The blessing of working with the Samaritan Center is that it brings God into the issue. Our places of business and schools are required to address these issues as a legal responsibility. As a church, we can help to address the healing of people who have been abused and encourage education to keep our children and youth safe outside the church, too.

Our congregation is alive and caring. We are engaged in building our faith and building a better world. We pray for peace globally and for peace within our families. No one wants to think that child abuse, sexual assault, physical or emotional abuse can happen in the lives of members of our congregation, but statistics show that these unspeakable sins can and do take place within church communities.

Please pray for our Safe Church core team members and our leaders as we walk through this process together.

PMT UPDATE

Projects that Property Ministry Team has completed or started this year:

We had termite damage repaired and painted, along with some of the hallways on the first floor. E.G. Stoltzfus paid to have all 4 bathroom floors on the first floor cleaned. Some of these floors looked bad and they agreed, so they had them cleaned.

Troy stripped and finished all the tile floors in the hallways and all the Sunday School tile floors also. The carpet in the FLC and in rooms 162-163 was cleaned. We also are replacing all 16 windowsills in the FLC because of water damage and we will replace 8 of the windows because of damage.

In July we are going to have Mast Electric replace all T-12 lamps (293). These are the 4 foot long florescent bulbs. These bulbs will no longer be manufactured after this year. Presently they have 4 bulbs in each fixture, and they will replace them with 2 new brighter bulbs. This was already done in room 162-163 to make sure we had adequate light before we completed the entire church. Each fixture presently is 4 bulbs at 160 watts. We will replace the bulbs with 2 new bulbs and reduce the watts to 89, reducing the watts almost by half.

Our present lighting energy load is 63.13 kw, with these new changes the energy load would be 24.98kw, energy saved is 38.15kw. The energy savings of 38.15kw is a savings of $3.82 per hour based on a cost of .10per kwh. The savings per year would be $3,972.80 if the lights are on an average of 20 hours per week.

On the outside of the church we had six entrance-way doors sanded repaired and painted, also some of the molding was replaced, repaired and painted that was damaged by carpenter ants.

Grant and Craig Husted did grading and seeding on the lawn by the parking lot covering the geo-thermal lines.

HVAC Update: Our new gas boilers and the geo-thermal unit are working well. We have made some adjustments with the thermostats and will continue to make adjustments as needed. Below is a comparison of gas usage and costs from 2011 and 2012.

2012		2011
January	3,137 ccf $1,993.25	5,487 ccf	$6,299.86
February	1,920 ccf $1,219.97	3,975 ccf	$4,608.05
March	905 ccf $ 927.90	2,634 ccf	$3,062.88
April	397 ccf $ 414.77	2,300 ccf	$2,677.69
Total	6,359 ccf $4,555.89	14,396 ccf	$16,648.48

Savings on the UGI bill was $12,092.59 for the first four months of 2012. Cost of gas was reduced 72% and ccf of gas was reduced 55%. Gas usage dropped because of high efficient boilers and also a mild winter. The remarkably low ccf usage in March and April of this year as compared to last year is again due to a mild winter and the geo-thermal unit working more when the outside temperature is 40 degrees or above. Also, contributing to a reduction of 55% ccf is from the new boiler that heats the FLC and sanctuary, the 2 largest rooms in the building.

Property Ministry Team Thanks you for all your support.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank Pastor Rill, Pastor Lattimer and Calvin Wenger for their visits and phone calls. Also, many thanks for everyone's prayers and cards during my surgery and now as I am recovering at home.

Melissa Gish

Thank you to all who have supported me with prayers or financial support during the last five years of my ministry with InterVarsity Christian Fellowship. Your support has impacted 100s of college students at Franklin & Marshall College and York College. It's been an honor to walk with students as they've learned new ways to pray, taken on new leadership, and shared personally. However, I feel God leading me in a different direction moving forward in the next year. Currently, I plan to complete the Master of Divinity Program I've begun at Lancaster Theological Seminary full-time. I hope to finish my classes by December 2013 at which time I will reevaluate where God is leading me in ministry. As of June 30, I will also start a new phase of life as I marry my best friend, Tim Lester. Together, we hope to seize more opportunities to be involved in the life and ministries of the church.

Thank you! Megan Eldredge

A sincere thank you to those who included me in their prayers and sent me their warm wishes during my time of temporary hearing loss. It is great to be part of a caring, Christian community. Surgery on my ear was successful. Praise God!

Chuck Denlinger

Jenny was a bright-eyed, pretty five-year-old girl. One day when she and her mother were checking out at the grocery store, Jenny saw a plastic pearl necklace priced at $2.50. How she wanted that necklace, and when she asked her mother if she would buy it for her, her mother said, "Well, it is a pretty necklace, but it costs an awful lot of money. I'll tell you what. I'll buy you the necklace, and when we get home we can make up a list of chores that you can do to pay for the necklace. And don't forget that for your birthday Grandma just might give you a whole dollar bill, too. Okay?"

Jenny agreed, and her mother bought the pearl necklace for her. Jenny worked on her chores very hard every day, and sure enough, her grandma gave her a brand new dollar bill for her birthday. Soon Jenny had paid off the pearls.

How Jenny loved those pearls. She wore them everywhere - to kindergarten, bed and when she went out with her mother to run errands. The only time she didn't wear them was in the shower - her mother had told her that they would turn her neck green!

Now Jenny had a very loving daddy. When Jenny went to bed, he would get up from his favorite chair every night and read Jenny her favorite story. One night when he finished the story he said, "Jenny, do you love me?"

"Oh yes, Daddy, you know I love you," the little girl said.

"Well, then, give me your pearls."

"Oh! Daddy, not my pearls!" Jenny said. "But you can have Rosie, my favorite doll. Remember her? You gave her to me last year for my birthday. And you can have her tea party outfit, too. Okay?"

"Oh no, darling, that's okay." Her father brushed her cheek with a kiss. "Good night, little one."

A week later, her father once again asked Jenny after her story, "Do you love me?"

"Oh yes, Daddy, you know I love you."

"Well then, give me your pearls."

"Oh, Daddy, not my pearls! But you can have Ribbons, my toy horse. Do you remember her? She's my favorite. Her hair is so soft, and you can play with it and braid it and everything. You can have Ribbons if you want her, Daddy," the little girl said to her father.

"No, that's okay," her father said and brushed her cheek again with a kiss. "God bless you, little one. Sweet dreams."

Several days later, when Jenny's father came in to read her a story, Jenny was sitting on her bed and her lip was trembling. "Here, Daddy," she said, and held out her hand. She opened it and her beloved pearl necklace was inside. She let it slip into her father's hand.

With one hand her father held the plastic pearls and with the other he pulled out of his pocket a blue velvet box. Inside of the box were real, genuine, beautiful pearls. He had them all along. He was waiting for Jenny to give up the cheap stuff so he could give her the real thing.

So it is with our Heavenly Father. He is waiting for us to give up the cheap things in our lives so he can give us beautiful treasure.

"Fear not, little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. Sell your possessions, and give to the needy. Provide yourselves with moneybags that do not grow old, with a treasure in the heavens that does not fail, where no thief approaches and no moth destroys. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." Luke 12:32-34, ESV
